

We are looking for teachers, instructional coaches, central office staff and school administrators to submit original blogs about Washington State Learning Standards, Assessments and Best Instructional Practices.

Guest Blogs will be posted in July and August 2016 on corelaboratewa.org and promoted through Twitter @CORElaborateWA using the #WATeachLead hashtag.

This is a great chance to expand your professional learning community, a platform to share your best practices and to engage with fellow educators teaching the Washington State Learning Standards.

Learn more about being a guest blogger and sign up today at corelaboratewa.org/guestblog or email mlaramie@psed.org.
